The screenshot displays the Beersmith software interface for a 'Dry Stout' recipe. The main window shows a list of ingredients with columns for Amount, Name, Type, %, IBU, Inventory, and Cost. Below this, there are sections for 'Style Guide Comparison' and 'Profiles for Mash, Carbonation and Aging'. The 'Style Guide Comparison' section shows various metrics like Est Original Gravity, Bitterness (IBUs), Color, and Est ABV, each with a color-coded bar and target range. The 'Profiles for Mash, Carbonation and Aging' section includes dropdown menus for Mash, Carbonation, and Fermentation profiles, along with an 'Adjust Mash for Equip' checkbox and a 'Cath Level' input field. A 'Notes' section at the bottom contains a descriptive text about the recipe.
